

LIFE & WORK

DO NOT TOLERATE
DISCRIMINATION

You deserve an appropriate wage for the work you do. The minimum wage in the Czech Republic in 2011 has been established at the amount of 8 000 CZK.

The average monthly wage of the 1st half of 2011 was 24 828 CZK and the average hourly wage in the same period was 110.84 CZK/hour.

For your orientation we have provided the average hourly wage for selected professions in 2011:

construction worker, worker performing demolition work	98
concrete layer	132
timber harvesting worker	89
agricultural worker in vegetable production	95
worker in textile production in a sewing workshop	73
lathe-hand, milling-machine operator	132
cashier in a hypermarket	95
nurse in health care and in the social facilities	96
cook	73
waiter/waitress	59

Most Demanded Professions in the Czech Republic - As of 30 November 2011:

doctors (dentists excluded) • general nurses and midwives without specialization • cooks (chefs excluded) • waiters, waitresses and bartenders • retail shopkeepers, shop assistants and shop-related workers • protection and security workers • tradesmen and workers qualified in the sector of main building production • tradesmen and workers qualified for finishing work on constructions • founders, welders and similar professions • blacksmiths, tool makers and similar professions • food producers and processors and similar professions • producers of clothing from leather and fur • machine operators in the production and adjustment of textile, leather and fur products • assembly workers for assembling products and machinery • truck drivers, bus and tram drivers • auxiliary workers for the agricultural, forestry and fishery sectors • auxiliary workers for the mining and construction sectors • auxiliary workers for manufacture